The informant states that the Chinese Communists have divided Sinkiang Industrial reconstruction into two parts: one part, which is outlined in this report, concerns projects undertaken by the Chinese Communists; the other part concerns projects constructed jointly by the Chinese Communists and the USSR in accordance with their agreements of 27 March 1950. This agreement included: (a) agreement for the establishment of the Sino-Soviet Petroleum Joint Stock Corporation in Sinkiang, and (b) agreement for establishing the Sino-Soviet Colored and Rare Metals Joint Stock Corporation in Sinkiang. In accordance with these agreements various colored metal mines and the Petroleum Development and Refining Company have been established. These joint Sino-Soviet projects are coordinated with the projects outlined in the Three Year Plan.
